

PB&J FLYING PIG WINGS

These golden pork wings are going to fly off plates. Glazed with deeply flavorful peanut butter sauce and finished with sweet-hot gochujang jelly.

Jif That Dish™ GRAND PRIZE WINNER.

Servings: 2

Ingredients

Peanut Butter Glaze:

1 cup Jif® Creamy Peanut Butter

6 tablespoons lime juice, fresh

3 tablespoons soy sauce

2 tablespoons Smucker's® Pure Honey

2 tablespoons sriracha sauce

2 cloves garlic, minced

1 teaspoon ginger, minced

1 teaspoon lemongrass, minced

Jelly Sauce:

1/2 cup Smucker's® Strawberry Jam

1/4 cup gochujang (Korean red chili paste)

Pork Wings:

6 4-ounce pork wings

sliced green onions

chopped dry roasted peanuts

cilantro leaves

Directions

- 1. Combine glaze ingredients in a small bowl, set aside for later use.
- 2. Combine jam with gochujang in a small saucepan. Gently heat mixture over a low flame. Thin the sauce mixture, if necessary, with a little water.
- 3. Roast pork wings on a baking pan in a preheated 375°F oven until they begin to brown. Remove from oven, coat all sides with peanut butter glaze, and return to the oven until golden brown.
- 4. For plating: arrange three pork wings in a teepee style onto serving plates. Drizzle pork wings with strawberry gochujang sauce.

  Garnish with green onions, chopped peanuts and cilantro leaves.

